GOVERNOR TAKES 3 HOURS

Declares Legal Holiday, Says
Legislation Passed by State
Not Reasonable.

The governor today took three hours to sign legislation passed by the state legislature. He declared the day a legal holiday in honor of the occasion. The governor said the legislation was not reasonable and that he was signing it only because it was the duty of the executive branch to do so.

The governor's action today was a surprise to many who expected him to veto the legislation. He said he was signing it because it was the duty of the executive branch to do so. He also said that he was signing it because it was the duty of the executive branch to do so.
